

These Rockland restaurants have outdoor heaters

In the past, the criteria for going out to eat might have been asking your friends or family if they preferred Chinese, Italian or Thai. Now, in our pandemic world, the question tends to be about heaters – as in, which restaurants have them – as most of us prefer dining outdoors, despite the dropping temperatures.

Worth noting: Some villages such as Nyack ban heaters, although Mayor Don Hammond said he's working on a process to allow them. For now, here's a list of places with heaters. Don't see your favorite spot on the list? We try to be as inclusive as possible and will update as needed. Email jmuchnick@lohud.com with additions.
