community members who are leading the fight to end HIV/AIDS and have been unbelievable supporters of LGBTQ civil rights.

Proceeds from Design on a Dime support Housing Works' mission to end the dual crises of homelessness and AIDS. The organization provides thousands of New Yorkers with lifesaving health services and housing. They also mobilize advocacy efforts to ensure social justice and healthcare for Americans in need.

Sponsors of the event include Official Paint Sponsor Benjamin Moore, Gilead Sciences, New York Design Center, and Sotheby's International Realty.

About Design on a Dime:

Founded in 2004 in New York City by renowned designer James Huniford, this one-of-a-kind benefit brings together top interior designers to create unique, jaw-dropping vignettes using donated merchandise from top brands, artists, and makers. Starting Opening Night, items in the vignettes are then sold for up to 80% off retail to savvy and stylish attendees.

About Housing Works:

For over 25 years, Housing Works has fueled the fight to end HIV and Homelessness through fashion and design. Our 13 Thrift Shops and signature events directly benefit our trailblazing work in grassroots activism, healthcare, and housing. Housing Works led the way during the height of the AIDS crisis in New York City, and continues to lead resistance efforts across the country in this current political climate.
