

Bringing high fashion home

At High Point Market and on the fashion runway, creative expression is true luxury. Where form and function are explored and sought, we're celebrating nature, geometry, color and curves.

— Jane Dagmi, Senior Editor, Fashion

Against a black ground, an exotic potpourri of nature's best makes a vivid appearance.

Scotch & Soda
Printed Pyjama Blazer

Highland House
Elva Chair

Butterflies are free: Shaped in glass and shades of pale, a typically colorful specimen of nature is paired down to its iconic form.

Alexander McQueen
Glass Wing Ruffle mini dress

Caracole | All-A-Flutter 60-inch table

Gorgeous ombre expressed in tangy and brilliant hues lends a hand-crafted vibe to a glamorous gown and cushioned modern bench.

Tadoshi Shoji | Aurora dress

John Strauss | Drake bench

Played out in a minimalist palette, a triangular abstraction feels especially modern and adaptable.

Noor by Noon
Dress

Alden Parkes
Triangle sideboard

Classic animal prints, patterns and hand-painted finish stand the test of time.

Kindel | Demi Lune table

J. Crew | Poppy two-strap ballet flats

A case of the stripes: An asymmetric dose of colorful jauntiness vibe with a spirit of youthful rebellion to the norm.

HC28 | Pianpian sofa

Etro | jacket

Body sculpting: Cinched at the waist, a shape that lends a formal feminine flair.

Julian Chichester
Deneuve cabinet

Christian Dior
bar suit jacket, 1st Dibs

Body conscious: Curvy, modern and cloaked in a shade of bare, a sofa celebrates the female form.

Liz sofa | Kelli Ellis Collection x Sunpan

Cushnie | Mari Neoprene top and bottom

